May Newsletter

Bon Air Artists Association

President's Message

May is such a busy month for Bon Air artists. Our officers for next year are being chosen. We are preparing for the end of year luncheon. The Art Affair committee is hard at work planning for October 17 and 18, 2009. Some of us are preparing for our spring and summer shows. And all of us are ready to make art.

This month the opportunities for plein air painting abound. (Thanks to Jillian Warner, Jill Chafin, and James Bassfield.) As you enjoy your outdoor painting time you might want to consider some of these quotes:

*I have not tried to reproduce nature: I have represented it. (Paul Cezanne)

*Study nature. Exaggerate light; overstate—the less inhibited you are, the better. (Sergei Bongart)

*Art does not imitate nature, but it finds itself on the study of nature—takes from nature the selections which best accord with its own intention, and then bestows on them that which nature does not possess, viz. the mind and the soul of man. (Edward G. Bulwer-Lytton)

*I devour nature ceaselessly. I exaggerate, sometimes I make changes in the subject; but still I don't invent the whole picture. On the contrary, I find it already there. It's a question of picking out what one wants from nature, (Vincent van Gogh)

*Feeling the wind on your face, and hearing the song of the birds, and watching the sun move across the land is to know there is no greater job than to be free to paint. (Andrew Hamilton)

*Nobody is painting from nature....Painting is painting and you cannot copy nature. Yet without nature there is no painting. Even abstract painting cannot exist without it. (Yossef Zaritsky)

May Program

I am pleased to bring you one of the area's wonderful watercolor artists, Faye Henderson. What you may not know is that Faye also creates pottery. Faye is one of those artists that everything she touches turns to art, whether it is her paintings, jewelry or pottery. She doesn't make cups or bowls, her work is more like sculptures using found objects to create beautiful pieces.

Faye graduated from VCU with a BFA in Painting and Printmaking in 1994 and taught in Chesterfield County Elementary Schools Enrichment Program, J. Sargent Reynolds Community College and has held Adult Studio Classes. Her work is exhibited in many corporate and private collections and has won many awards.

Featured Artist Opportunity: The Wellness Village at Starling

The Wellness Village has space that they have offered to the Bon Air Artists Association for a featured artist exhibits every two-months. The venue is small offering space for 6 to 7 medium to large paintings, but it offers a diversity of clients and the center is committed to promoting community artists. The Wellness Village will advertise through their websites and newsletter each exhibit. The artist's bio and digital art image will be featured on their website and will be linked to the artist's website. A binder with information about each of the featured artists will remain in the office for additional promotions.

Each featured artist will need a framed bio that will hang in the lobby with one of the artist's paintings. Artist's cards with pricing may be placed on each painting for contact information.

An artist's reception can be arranged for the 3rd or 4th week of the showing. This allows the Wellness Village to advertise the reception with their media connections. Costs of snacks will be up to the artist.

Gloria Callahan will be the first featured artist in May and June as a trial for the association. Her reception will be on May 22, 2009 in the evening.

Please contact Gloria (379-0016) if you are interested in this opportunity to show your work at The Wellness Village located beside the BJ's behind Regency Square Mall.
